AiML-2004 – Call for Participation

International Conference on Advances in Modal Logic

September 9–11, 2004, University of Manchester, Manchester, UK

http://www.cs.man.ac.uk/aiml04/

Programme Co-Chairs:

Mark Reynolds
Murdoch University, Perth, Australia
m.reynolds@murdoch.edu.au

Heinrich Wansing
Dresden University of Technology, Germany wansing@rcs.urz.tu-dresden.de

Programme Committee:

Patrick Blackburn (Nancy, France)
Alexander Chagrov (Tver, Russia)
Vincent Hendricks (Roskilde, Denmark)
Ian Pratt-Hartmann (Manchester, UK)
Mark Reynolds (Perth, Australia)
Maarten de Rijke (Amsterdam, The Netherlands)
Ulrike Sattler (Manchester, UK)
Holger Schlingloff (Berlin, Germany)
Renate Schmidt (Manchester, UK)
Nobu-Yuki Suzuki (Shizuoka, Japan)
Heinrich Wansing (Dresden, Germany)
Frank Wolter (Liverpool, UK)
Michael Zakharyaschev (London, UK)

Local Organizing Committee:

Renate Schmidt (Chair), Ian Pratt-Hartmann
University of Manchester, UK
{schmidt,ipratt}@cs.man.ac.uk

AiML Steering Committee:

Mark Reynolds (Murdoch University)
Maarten de Rijke (University of Amsterdam)
Renate Schmidt (University of Manchester)
Nobu-Yuki Suzuki (Shizuoka University)
Heinrich Wansing (Dresden Univ. of Technology)
Frank Wolter (University of Liverpool)
Michael Zakharyaschev (King's College London)

Important Dates:

July 6, 2004	Deadline for grant applications
July 12, 2004	Early registration deadline
Sept. 9–11, 2004	AiML-2004

Scope: Advances in Modal Logic is an initiative aimed at presenting an up-to-date picture of the state of the art in modal logic and its many applications. The initiative consists of a conference series together with volumes based on the conferences. AiML-2004 is the fifth conference organized as part of this initiative.
The conference will include presentations of original research papers on all topics relating to modal logic.

Invited speakers:

Philippe Balbiani (Toulouse, France)
Keith Devlin (Stanford, USA)
Valentin Goranko (Johannesburg, South Africa)
Wiebe van der Hoek (Liverpool, UK)
Maarten Marx (Amsterdam, The Netherlands)
Robert Stalnaker (MIT, USA)

Registration Information: Early registration for AiML-2004 has begun. To register for the conference please go to the conference website and follow the link to the registration form. Early registration closes on July 12th, 2004. The webpage also contains information about accommodation and travel.

Grants: There is a small number of grants available for students and participants from economically less well off countries. The deadline for applying for these grants is July 6th, 2004. Please refer to the conference website for details.

Conference Venue: The venue for the meeting will be the Chancellors Residential Conference Centre of the University of Manchester. The Chancellors is a purpose-built conference hotel, 3 star Hotel standard, situated in five acres of landscaped gardens located not far from the University and the city centre.
Cheaper accommodation will be on offer in a student residence hall within easy walking distance from the Chancellors Conference Centre.

Co-Located Event: The Workshop of EU COST Action TARSKI will be held after AiML-2004 on 12-13 September at the same venue.

Additional information can be obtained at the AiML-2004 conference website http://www.cs.man.ac.uk/aiml04/.
Email enquiries about AiML-2004 should be directed to the local organizers or the programme co-chairs.

Sponsors:

Advances in Modal Logic Initiative, EU COST Action 274, Murdoch Univ., CologNet, British Logic Colloquium, Univ. Amsterdam, Univ. Manchester